

Agile ML project

Vote and comment on the term project

You'd rather get a topic from me	Votes
I am interested in the machine learning, but not quite sure where to start with my skill level	5
If you are assigning partners, this style would work best so that there are no issues in deciding what topic to choose.	1
I'm interested in all the various applications	0
i would like to see possible topics to help direct me to a project i'm more interested in	0

You'd rather pick your own topic	Votes
Because I already have a suitable topic I'm interested in and/or working on.	11
I would like to pick my own topic because it gives freedom to do something we're interested in.	5
I think that this style would work best if we are choosing our own partners because we could choose a partner(s) with similar interests.	4
Own topic because you have more freedom and gives you more motivation to work on it if you like the idea	3

You'll give a presentation	Votes
Presentations are better because we can get experience talking about code/projects formally and get inspiration from our classmates project	4
I believe it will be more beneficial in the long run. More along the line of what will be done in the work place.	2
I like being able to see my classmates work and compare it to my own.	2
I'd much rather give a presentation. If we are sharing our projects, then I don't want to read 12 essays at the end of the year.	2
i would prefer a presentation cause its cool	1
i would prefer a presentation because in the IT field and specially in ML you are more likely to present a project than to write an essay	0
Using emacs for my presentation last semester was fun and I was able to show my code along with the visuals.	0

You'll write an essay	Votes
absolutely because essay good too exciting	445
<--- downvote the post to the left	102
I have the brain function of a soggy piece of lettuce and I can't write papers.	3
It's better for longer down the road if we want to have something formal typed up to show an employer	2
